

A Guided Tour of the DACB (English site)

1. For first-time visitors who want an introduction to the DACB project:
 - a. A quick definition of the project: <http://www.dacb.org/what-is-dacb.html>
 - b. How it began: <http://www.dacb.org/introduction.html>
 - c. The complete story of its beginnings, the vision, its scope, the way stories are collected: <http://www.dacb.org/xnmaps.html>
 - PowerPoint presentation:
http://www.dacb.org/intro-dacb-web_files/frame.htm
 - d. DACB Staff, board, partners:
 - Project Director and Project Manager: <http://www.dacb.org/jonbio.htm>
 - Assistant: <http://www.dacb.org/jonbio.htm>
 - Advisory council : <http://www.dacb.org/advisors.html>
 - Financial supporters/donors: <http://www.dacb.org/dacbpartners.htm>
 - e. People who write biographies for the DACB:
 - Project Luke scholars: <http://www.dacb.org/plfellows.htm>
 - Participating Institutions: http://www.dacb.org/particip_instit.html
 - Independent scholars and lay writers: <http://www.dacb.org/authors.html>
2. For returning visitors and regular affiliates of the project:
 - a. What's new: <http://www.dacb.org/what-is-new.html>
 - b. Our newsletters: <http://www.dacb.org/newsletter.html>
 - c. The latest stories uploaded to the site: <http://www.dacb.org/newstories.html>
3. For readers, stories are organized in many different indexes:
 - a. Stories recently added to the site: <http://www.dacb.org/newstories.html>
 - b. The Africa map (click on a country to get a country index):
 - <http://www.dacb.org/stories/dacbmap.html>
 - c. All Subjects: a comprehensive list of stories:
<http://www.dacb.org/stories/all%20subjects.html>
 - d. Map of Ancient Africa (click on a region):
 - <http://www.dacb.org/stories/ancient-africa.html>
 - e. Ancient church (up to about 650 A.D.):
 - <http://www.dacb.org/stories/ancientchristw.html>
 - f. Women: <http://www.dacb.org/stories/women-index.html>
 - g. Non Africans (who never set foot in Africa):
 - <http://www.dacb.org/stories/non%20africans/nonafricans.html>
 - h. Stories by independent authors:
 - <http://www.dacb.org/authors.html>
 - i. Stories by Project Luke Scholars (link next to each PL scholar):
 - <http://www.dacb.org/plfellows.htm>
 - j. Indexes of stories submitted by Participating Institutions:
 - http://www.dacb.org/partic-instit_stories.html
 - k. Stories by church affiliation:

- <http://www.dacb.org/churches.html>
 - l. Stories by country: click on the drop down menu in the sidebar
 - m. Stories with photos: <http://www.dacb.org/stories/photo-index.html>
4. Various resources and research tools DACB offers:
- a. Index of online resources or regional histories of Africa:
 - <http://www.dacb.org/history/histories.htm>
 - b. Stories organized by church affiliation:
 - <http://www.dacb.org/churches.html>
 - c. Official languages of Africa: <http://www.dacb.org/languages.html>
 - d. Regions of Africa: <http://www.dacb.org/regions.html>
 - e. Link to video resources: <http://www.dacb.org/video-info.html>
 - f. Our links page: <http://www.dacb.org/links.html>
5. Additional resources for researchers and writers:
- a. Our guidelines: <http://www.dacb.org/guidelines-writers.html>
 - b. Our Instructional Manual: <http://www.dacb.org/FinalInstrManual.pdf>
 - c. For archivists and librarians: <http://www.dacb.org/ArchivesManual-English.pdf>
 - d. Resources index, including oral history materials:
 - <http://www.dacb.org/resources.html>
 - e. Training resources (index): <http://www.dacb.org/training.html>
 - f. Potential subjects indexes (listing of suggested names of individuals whose biographies should be written):
 - http://www.dacb.org/stories/potential%20subjects/potsubj_index.html
 - Complete bibliography of references from potential subjects pages (current works on African Christian history):
<http://www.dacb.org/stories/potential%20subjects/referex.html>